EASTERN DATES TO JULY 12.

Congressional

WASHINGTON, July 11.—In the Senate Casserly presented a petition from the citizens of California for the interposition by Congress in behalf of American citizens imprisoned by the British government for political offences. Referred to the Foreign Committee.

The bill passed to confirm titles to purchasers of lands sold for taxes in the late insurrectionary States.

The Senate has confirmed Thomas Murphy Collector, and Moses H. Grinnell Naval Officer of New York; Marshall Giddings Consul General of Calcutta, and the following postmasters: Chas. F. Myers, Treasure City, Nevada, and Robert Allen, Austin, Nev. Also Enoch G. Adams Register ... and Samuel W. Brown Receiver of public moneys at Vancouver, W. T.

In the House a bill was introduced by Fitch granting lands for a railroad from the Central Pacific Railroad, in Nevada, to Hamilton, Nev.

Davis, of New York, moved to suspend the rules and concur in the Senate amendment to the Naturalization bill; agreed to—yeas 133, noes 53. The bill goes to the President.

The Kentucky contested election case was decided in favor of Rice, the sitting member. The House decided that Segar was not entitled to a seat from Virginia.

The Conference Committee on the funding bill have agreed to provide for the issue of one thousand millions of thirty year bonds at four per cent and three hundred millions of fifteen year bonds at four and one half per cent, and two hundred millions of ten year bonds at five per cent. The section allowing gold deposits in the Treasury limits the interest to two and one half per cent. National banks hereafter organized are required to take new bonds. The other main points agreed upon were the foreign agency clause to be stricken out, and all interest to be paid in the United States on exchange bonds. One-half per cent will be paid for negotiating bonds.

Washington News

NEW YORK, July 12.—A Times Washington special says the chances now seem to be against the passage of a new apportionment bill this session. The original bill, passed by the House, was amended by the Senate and then sent back to the House Judiciary Committee by a small majority. The Senate then added it as an amendment to the House bill fixing a uniform day for Congressional elections, and the bill now lies on the Speaker's table and its friends, so far have not been able to reach it.

The expected foreign mission appointments were not made to-day, and if there ever was any idea of sending Wendell Phillips to England it has probably been abandoned. The talk in White House circles to-day was that Motley's successor will be an ex-Senator from one of the Middle States against whom there can be no objection whatever if a change must be made. He was favorably mentioned before the selection of Motley. The Times special says there is some doubt if Motley will be recalled at all. A number of Republican Senators urge the President to retain him.

West Indies

HAVANA, July 11.—The West India cable fleet arrived at Cienfuegos yesterday. The work of laying cable commenced immediately.

During an engagement yesterday near Mirda a lieutenant and 18 Spaniards were killed and 1 wounded. The insurgents lost 7 killed and 31 wounded. There is great excitement on the island over European complications.

BY THE CABLES.

LONDON, July 11.—The Times has just received a telegram dated at Berlin announcing that the reports previously forwarded from there touching naval preparations at Baltic ports are unfounded. There is no undue activity on the part of the Prussian navy and no popular excitement in Berlin. A pacific solution of the question at issue between France and Prussia seems to be confidently expected everywhere.

PARIS, July 11.—It is not known whether any answer has been received from Prussia. Rentes fallen to 68 francs and 45 centimes.

FRANKFORT, July 11.—U. S. bonds have rapidly declined to 91.

The European Embroglio

NEW YORK, July 12.—A special to the Herald from London says the French note to Prussia contained two demands: one for a disavowal of Prince Leopold's candidacy by Prussia, the other the withdrawal of the Prince's name in connection with the Spanish crown. Prussia's answer is expected to-morrow. Special English envoys have gone to Ems, Paris and Madrid. The Queen of Prussia has arrived at Ems to use her influence for the preservation of peace. The army at Paris have received orders to go to Mozelle, and transports at Toulon have steam up ready to sail for Algiers to bring back troops. Special guards are to constitute the first corps de armee, which will be commanded by Marshal Bazaine, with General Cartol de Beizy for chief of staff, headquarters at Metz. Marshal McMahon has been ordered from Algiers to take command of the army which is to operate on the Rhine. Count de Palko with other Generals will act on the Spanish frontier. A fleet is prepared to transport 30,000 troops, whose destination is Hamburg and the North Sea.

MADRID, July 12.—A conspiracy has been discovered here, the object of which is to declare a republic. The leaders were arrested.

DUBLIN, July 12.—Riots are threatened in the north of Ireland and police and troops are concentrating in that quarter.

CALIFORNIA

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11.—Many of the Fourth of July bills for carriages, etc., have been cut down as exorbitant by the committee, and parties holding them refuse to accept the amounts, threatening to bring suit for the full amount claimed.

... three of the wounded marines from the Mohican. The arms, money and other articles stolen by Vega's men at Guaymas had been landed and delivered to Vega, who it was rumored was ready to advance on Mazatlan, where preparations have been made to receive him. The Forward was fitted out here, having been bought, as is reported, by two prominent native Californians, one residing in Solano, the other in Santa Clara county; refitted by Janson of this city, and cleared by Schleiden, ostensibly for the gulf oyster trade. All these parties are known as friends of Vega. Two hundred tons of coal recently left here, as is supposed, for her.

Destruction of the Pirate Gunboat Forward—Further Particulars

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11.—A semi-official account of the destruction of the pirate steamer Forward in river Teacapan, near San Blas, agrees in main particulars with that received from passengers by the Continental, and forwarded last night. The Mohican went to San Blas and back to Mazatlan, and thence to San Blas in pursuit, and finally ascertained her whereabouts. She steamed for the mouth of the Teacapan at daylight on the 17th; her six boats, containing a 12-pound howitzer and eighty-eight armed men and officers, under command of Lieut. W. H. Brown ... They proceeded through heavy breakers into the river, expecting to find the steamer about eight or nine miles from the mouth. From information received at the settlement called Boca Teacapan they became convinced she was there, and pushed on 42 miles from the mouth, arriving at the steamer's hiding place at 7:30 P. M. The steamer was boarded and taken, but it was discovered that all extra forces had been moved ashore in mangrove bushes and had erected a battery with the howitzers of the Forward, leaving on board of the vessel seven men only belonging to the crew. Before boarding the first cutter, commanded by Ensign J. M. Wainwright, started in pursuit of a boat which was escaping from the steamer, and received the first volley of musketry, accompanied by shell, shrapnel, and canister from the bushes. The coxswain, James Donnell, was instantly killed, and Wainwright and two of the crew severely wounded. Firing from the bushes was continued until the return fire from the Mohican's launch obliged them to leave their pieces, but they afterwards recommenced and made hot work for the Mohican's. Finding the steamer drawing seven feet and aground in five feet of water, and that it would be impossible to ever get her out of the river, Lieutenant Brownson concluded to Bro... her, and emptied into the coal pile and bedding a large flask of turpentine, which had been taken for signaling purposes. Afterwards the whole was set on fire in three places. About 8:30 P. M. the party returned to the Mohican, covering their retreat with a howitzer, and arrived on board at 2 P. M. the 18th, when she immediately got under weigh and steamed to this port. Killed and wounded: Killed, Jas. Donnell, Coxswain; wounded, Ensign J. M. Wainwright, since died; Second Assistant Engineer F. W. Towrow, C. B. Scott, seaman; Thos. Daly, seaman; J. C. McIntyre, landsman; Wm. Higgins and John Welch. On Sunday noon Wainwright died from the effects of his wounds. The surgeons of the Mohican embalmed the body and prepared it for transmitting to the east.

The first company of armed anti-Chinese organized under a ... was formed at a meeting on Friday night last with the avowed object of driving Chinese by violence from the State, is called the St. Crispin Guard. At a meeting last evening 140 persons signed the roll and the following officers were elected: Capt. M. V. Carey, First Lieut., Rogers; Second Lieut., Jas. Sullivan; Orderly Sergeant, C. Sullivan.

It is reported that Prof. Gilman, of Yale College, will decline the Presidency of the University of California.

The body of a man supposed to be a sailor was found in the Bay off Alcatraz yesterday. He had been but a few hours in the water.

An old Indian, generally known as "Hombre," well known here and throughout the country, was terribly stabbed and cut about the throat and arms by a notoriously desperate Mexican, at San Leandro, on Sunday.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.—The Pacific Insurance Company held their annual meeting at noon to-day. The old Board of Directors was re-elected with the addition of T. R. Hayes, Milton S. Latham and James D. Goodman, to fill vacancies.

The body of a German, supposed from a letter found in his pocket to be George Parker, was found in the water at North Beach to-day. He is supposed to have committed suicide, being sick and in want.

Letters received from Arizona say the Harpend prospecting and mining party, which left here for the new mines in New Mexico, May 8th, under the command of Capt. John A. Curtis, had a fight with a large party of Apaches, forty miles beyond Tucson, and killed a number of Indians, but were compelled to retreat to Florence on the Gila river, with a loss of their wagons, etc. The Indians were led by Cochise in person. None of the whites were killed.

The French Marine Cable

The correspondence in relation to the French marine cable has just been published. The Minister of Foreign Affairs on the 31st of March last addressed the following note to the Minister at Washington:

The government of the Emperor consents to the modification of its contract with the French Cable Company in the sense of the relinquishment of the privilege (that is consents to relinquish the privilege) agreeably to the views of the Washington Cabinet. It likewise desires in arranging this matter, to come to an understanding with the government of the Union in order to fix a maximum of thirty-seven francs fifty centimes as the price of a despatch of ten words, and to impose this condition on all the companies.

Mr. Fish in reply to Mr. Berthemy, April 14, 1870:

The President is gratified to learn that the French government have adopted the views prescribed by him on the subject and that they have ... the grant of exclusive ... monopoly privileges. He understands the relinquishment of the exclusive character of the grant ... the project ... of the present ... to involve the concession and acknowledgment of the full and equal rights of any cable which may be established by authority of this government to land upon the French shores and to connect with and enjoy the same privileges and facilities for forwarding, transmitting and delivering its messages over the lines established on French territory and ... connecting with extra territorial lines, & that ... by the ... A CONTRIBUTION TO THE HISTORY OF THE WAR

FORT LEAVENWORTH (Kansas), June 12th.

To the Editor of the Philadelphia Evening Telegraph—Sir: I have just read a letter from J. Bankhead Magruder copied from your paper into the Army and Navy Journal of the 4th instant, and I feel constrained, in the interest of truth and justice, to say that Magruder's ... in regard to what did actually take place between the President and himself about the time he resigned from the army ... I have every reason to believe that the remarks which he attributes to Senator Cameron are in all essential particulars, substantially correct, viz: He escorted the President to the White House and I heard him say to the President that he admired him and was going to stand by him during the war. He said that the evening before he went away.

During the Summer of 1862, I commanded the defenses of Washington, and had almost daily intercourse with the President, who was kind enough to enter into familiar conversation with me on many occasions, which I shall always remember with pleasure and pride. On one occasion at the request of the officers of the Seventy-first Regiment of New York Volunteers (which constituted a part of my command) the President reviewed that regiment in its camp, near Tenallytown. After the review we rode back toward Washington until we reached the road diverging toward the Soldiers' Home (where the President was then temporarily residing) and there we separated. During that ride our conversation, being of a casual character, something was said which called up in the mind of the President the conduct of Colonel Magruder at the time of his resignation from the service. He said: "Sturgis" (it was not an unusual thing for Lincoln to adopt this familiar style), "I can not call to mind now any single event of my administration that gave me so much pain or wounded me so deeply as the singular behavior of Colonel Magruder on the very night before he abandoned us."

I said, "Why so, Mr. President?"

Lincoln replied: "Because he came to see me the very evening before he left and voluntarily said to me, while expressing his abhorrence of secession, 'Sir, I was brought up and educated under the old flag. I have lived under it and fought under it, and with the help of God I shall fight under it again, and if need be, I shall die under it.'

The very next day the President continued, Magruder abandoned us, so that at the very moment he was making me these protestations of loyalty and devotion he must have had his mind fully made up to leave; and it seemed the more wanton and cruel in him because he knew that I had implicit confidence in his integrity. The fact is, when I learned that he had gone over to the enemy and I had been so completely deceived in him my confidence was shaken in everybody, and I hardly knew who to trust any more."

As Lincoln said this an expression of deep sorrow pervaded his features, and for some time he rode along in silence, as though unable or unwilling to give further vent to the painful emotion ... by the mere remembrance of what appeared to him as an act of base ingratitude.

Now, Mr. Editor, I have taken pains to give you not only substantially what Lincoln said on that occasion, but, as nearly as I can recall them, his exact words, and I have done so with reluctance because as a general thing I am ... of those officers who elected to cast their fortunes with the rebellion have the full benefit of whatever explanation they may choose to offer in justification or extenuation of their course, but as Magruder's letters place the conduct of the President (when we consider the important and momentous issues with which he was then grappling) in a trifling and flippant light before the country, I do not feel authorized in withholding my testimony while so much wrong is being heaped upon the memory of so great and so good a man.

I am, sir, very respectfully, your obedient servant,
S. D. STURGIS,
Colonel Seventh Cavalry, Brevet Major General U. S. A.

FACTS FROM THE NEW YORK DIRECTORY.—From the New York Times we take the following:

The volume is larger than its predecessor by 124 pages. The whole number of names contained in it is 204,617. Last year's Directory contained 189,143 names. The increase is 15,174 against an increase during the previous year of 3,690. Among the names the interesting family of Smiths is conspicuous, covering 13 pages, 140 names on each page, an increase of a page and a half since last year. The plain John Smiths, who last year were 119 in number, now foot up 149. Next to the Smiths in numbers come the Browns, spreading over seven pages, the Joneses having only half as many, and the Robinsons filling but a ... pages. Among our friends from the Emerald Isle the Sullivans seem to be most numerous. The Patricks and Michaels ... with the family cognomen of Sullivan ... less than three and a half pages, and that is as much as the respectable old family of Johnsons do, and half a page more than the Williamses. The names which are least common are too numerous to mention, though it is gratifying to notice among them the appellations of Skog and Jobbins, each of them being borne by a single individual.

The following statistics are compiled from the ... What the Matter is in Polk

The [illegible] the [illegible] in the recent [illegible] when it ought to have carried it. Really there should have been no more difficulty in carrying Polk than in carrying Benton or Yamhill. But [illegible] spirit of the party [illegible] Polk county. A few men there who have been prominent in Republican [illegible] pursued the mistaken [illegible] leading measure of the National Republican party and the whole tendency of their influence has been to weaken the organization. Such has been their course for a series of years and in the last election it produced its legitimate result—a Republican defeat.

Some of the recognized leaders of the party there, among whom we may name Judge Boise and Mr Sullivan, have not been willing to accept any prominent measure of the Republican party for the last five years. They protested against the reconstruction laws and thought them all wrong; they opposed the fifteenth amendment and said it ought never to be adopted, and in one way or another steadily inculcated a distrust of the measures and principles of the Republican party. We suppose that they took this course simply through motives of policy,—that is to say through fear that the party would lose ground by a bold avowal of its principles; for if they had really thought its measures and principles so very dangerous they would have left the party and gone to the Democrats. But the course they took, unfortunately, was the very one to weaken the organization. In 1864 the party was as strong in Polk as in Yamhill or Benton, and its ascendency might have been maintained in the first as easily as in either of the two counties last named. But the timidity of those who were regarded as its leaders enfeebled and dispirited it. The leaders alluded to did not leave the party themselves, but the course they took and the arguments they furnished caused others to quit it. Men were not to be blamed for leaving the party if its measures and tendencies were so dangerous and bad as Judge Boise and others represented them.

There is a paper published at Dallas called the Republican, which we regret to see has become the echo of the gentlemen in Polk county whose policy has led the party to defeat. We regret this because the Republican party in Polk county is in a condition to need wise counsels and brave words. It must come squarely up to the requirements of the times and fight for its principles, or it can make no fight at all. It cannot win by disowning the doctrines and policy of the party throughout the country. All who are opposed to those doctrines and that policy will naturally go to the Democrats. Referring to the result of the late election the Republican says:

> We have been beaten because the party has been [illegible] against its will and wishes by the operations of unscrupulous demagogues to lay aside the only name which had a charm for the majority of those who organized under it, and to adopt the platform of a fanatical journalist, consisting of two planks, "universal suffrage and universal [illegible]y." If the Union party had been content to [illegible] in its name, and had done its whole duty in carrying out its declared purpose, to make treason odious, by causing Jeff Davis and the author of the above platform, at the time he signed the bail bonds, to have tested the strength of hemp cord, one inch in diameter, on the spot where John Brown expired, and then like men and freemen, maintained the only correct policy in relation to opposite races in this Government as advocated by the immortal Lincoln, instead of changing front on that question, we might have to-day been the strongest, best and most influential political organization that ever existed in the Government.

The name "Union" served for the party so long as the Union of the States was menaced by rebellion, but after the war was over it had no special significance and was dropped by common consent of the party. But if "Union" was the name that should have been retained the Dallas paper is unfortunate in the selection of its own name—the Republican.

Horace Greeley is a man who is full of vagaries and not at all times a safe party leader, nor is he recognized as the leader of the Republican party. It was one of his whims to go on Jeff Davis bail bonds; yet we cannot think that a great national party could have lived as the "most influential political organization that ever existed in the government" on the glory it would have acquired by hanging Davis and Greeley together. Some wiser stroke of statesmanship would, in all probability, have been required of it by the people.

When it is said that the "only correct policy in relation to the opposite races in this government" should have been maintained we suppose it is meant that the colored race never should have received the elective franchise. That is a subject which the people of the United States have pronounced their verdict upon, and that verdict cannot be disturbed. But the "immortal Lincoln" did not "advocate" the exclusion of the colored race from the elective franchise. He was in advance of the party in this matter, and so far back as 1863, when the first steps were taken in the work of reconstruction, he insisted that the colored men of the South should be endowed with the suffrage. He wrote to Gov. Hahn of Louisiana that the blacks should be let in, and added that this measure might at some future time "help to keep the jewel of liberty in the family of freedom."

What would the Republican party in this State have gained by disowning the measures of the national organization, as the paper at Dallas seems to have wanted it to do? Would anybody have believed the Republican who had said in the late campaign that his party was not in favor of suffrage for the blacks and the fifteenth amendment? The supposition is ridiculous. The Republican party has taken its course and made its record. By that record it must stand. It cannot escape from it, and if it should try to escape it would meet with the fate of the coward, that is certain defeat. Its principles are strong and commend themselves to the judgment of the country. It can only maintain those principles by convincing the people that they are right. If they who are regarded as the Republican leaders in Polk will cease to teach that the measures of the party are wrong and maintain that they are right the party there will be placed upon the tide that leads on to fortune.

One of the most terrible and calamitous events of the present century was the great fire that occurred at Constantinople on the 5th June, a very full and startling account of which is given to-day on our fourth page.

Why should letters from New York to this place be, habitually, from sixteen to twenty days on the way? Can the Postal Agent for Oregon, or any postmaster or contractor anywhere, explain?

The duties paid at the port of San Francisco for the year ending June 30, 1870, aggregated $8,599,168 gold, the largest amount ever collected at that port in a single year.

The Wasco Swindle

The [illegible] of the Democratic managers in Wasco county who employed their [illegible] to carry the election there is still a subject of long articles in the Herald. The first of these articles flatly denies that the Democracy in Wasco did anything wrong, and inveighs against the law by which it is sought to punish them. [illegible] that the Democratic [illegible] in Wasco [illegible] that they were [illegible] Statements to this effect were made before the election, and the Democratic papers published letters from Wasco in which such an intention was foreshadowed and virtually avowed. Nor does the Herald now deny that Republican votes were excluded. It admits that the thing was done, but expresses indignation that an attempt should be made to punish the act under the law recently passed by Congress. An attempt to punish a deliberately formed and thoroughly executed scheme of swindling, it calls an "unbecoming and undignified desire for revenge for defeat." That is one way of putting it. The highwayman no doubt is indignant because he is not allowed to depart in peace with his booty, and thinks it very undignified in the person whom he has despoiled to pursue him with the vengeance of the law. In the second article the Herald changes its tune and exclaims, "Enforce the law by all means." It then goes on to affirm that the enforcement of the law would be of great advantage to its party. "There are many Republicans in Wasco county," it declares, "whose hearts have been turned against their party by having the infamous law for the enforcement of the fifteenth amendment brought so vividly to their notice by these cases." To this assertion we have only to say that when the Republicans of Wasco county reach such a condition as to be perfectly satisfied with being swindled systematically in elections, they will then oppose the enforcement of a law designed to prevent such transactions and [illegible] the party that does the swindling.

The Chicago Times dissents totally from the Ohio Democratic Platform so far as it proposes to make the repeal of the Fifteenth Amendment a party issue. It plainly tells the party that nothing is to be gained by fighting that measure, or by continuing public agitation on the nigger question in any form. On this the Cincinnati Enquirer takes the Times up and expresses the belief that there is nothing in the world like "the nigger question" for an issue. "If we cannot have that," it exclaims, "what is the use of a political organization?" This little difference indicates the difficulties which beset the party at the outset.

The Piratical Expedition to Mexico

The capture and destruction of the steamer Forward, which recently made a raid from San Francisco upon some of the maritime ports of Mexico, is detailed at some length in the dispatches to-day. Placido Vega is an outlaw and robber whose head ought to be placed on exhibition. The following are his "instructions" to the commander of the freebooting expedition, whom he commissioned:

GENERAL-IN-CHIEF.—In order to expedite the military operations in support of the plan which we have proclaimed in the town of Concepcion on the 8th of February last, I hereby commission you to proceed, immediately upon receipt of this note, in the vessel and with the forces and implements of war which I place at your disposal, to the port of Guaymas, where you will land with the precautions indispensable for the success of the operations herein mentioned.

I have appointed Lieutenant Colonel Angel Perez as your second in command and Mr Dervando Gomez as your chief of staff.

In the government magazines of said port you will find a deposit of 298 cases, containing 5,000 Prussian percussion rifles with bayonets, which were forwarded by my order and for my account from San Francisco, California, in the American schooner Montana. Enclosed please find the documents relating to said shipment. I am compelled to these measures, because the military commander and Collector of customs of said port have declared that they will not permit the departure of this armament, pursuant to orders received from the arbitrary and so called government of Benito Juarez. And availing yourself of this opportunity, you will seize in the same way all the arms, munitions of war, and funds you may find in said port belonging to the nation, and also exact indispensably a forced loan of $400,000 from the principal property owners in said port. You will assure the loaners that they will be faithfully reimbursed at an early date, and with a sincere acknowledgment for all sums which they are compelled to advance, and also give them corresponding receipts to their satisfaction, signed by the paymaster, Ygnacio Camon, and countersigned by yourself, ordering at the same time the immediate publication of the list of creditors and their loans, together with this communication, in the papers of Sonora, Sinaloa and Lower California. Should you not be able to complete the above sum of $400,000 in cash, you are to demand at least $200,000 in specie, and the remainder in arms, powder, lead, paper and caps, as well as provisions and clothing for the use of the army, fixing upon these the ordinary market prices.

You shall be held personally responsible for any faults in the execution of this order, or for omitting any efforts to carry out the same; but you will endeavor at the same time that all your acts and the distinguished good conduct of the forces under your command shall bear the seal of morality and discipline.

You will remain in said port only as long as it be indispensably necessary, and in full organization and vigilance in order to avoid a surprise, proceeding to the port already designated to you, where you will receive new instructions. You will also do your utmost toward carrying off from said port the largest number of men possible to increase my force, and to this purpose you are empowered to advance them the necessary funds, distributing also among the officers and men accompanying you at the rate of $50 from Sergeant down, $100 from Ensign to Captain, and $150 from Major up, leaving the payment of all back dues until your return.

Furthermore, if on your way back circumstances permit, you will disembark at the port of La Paz, Lower California, where you will exact a forced loan of $50,000, which you will collect in money and merchandise, as above described, following, in every other respect, the above instructions as well as those given you privately.

I cannot but anticipate favorable results in the execution of the delicate commission confided to you, trusting as I do upon distinguished integrity and that of those who obey you. Reform and progress.

PLACIDO VEGA

Teacapan, May 18th, 1870.

The vessel, it will be remembered, stole out of San Francisco harbor without being suspected. If this was an oversight on the part of the United States authorities it has been atoned by the destruction of the craft by the crew of a United States vessel.

Let the advocates of Woman's Rights take courage. The position of the sex in Russia has not hitherto been a very elevated one. In fact the daughter of the Russian peasant has probably to submit to more unfeminine drudgery than the women of the laboring classes of any other country in Europe. But now reform has begun higher up in the scale, it is true, but with good omen for those occupying the [illegible]. It is announced that the Russian Minister of Finance "has sanctioned the employment of women as book-keepers and clerks in custom house offices, and that "there are already a great number of female candidates for these posts." The cause is clearly progressing all over the world.

The St. Joseph (Mo.) Gazette of the 16th says: "Mr. Autiff Hyde, who resides some three and a half miles south of that city, has something in the way of horseflesh that is a natural curiosity. It is a three year old colt with horns resembling those of a deer protruding out straight, about two and a half inches above each eye. These horns made their appearance about two months ago, have grown with remarkable rapidity, and have now attained considerable length. The colt is a very finely formed animal, about sixteen hands high."

THE TERRITORIES

The fare from Boise City to Idaho City has been reduced to $[illegible].

Another "last spike" has been driven this time to signalize the completion of the Denver Pacific railroad.

The Helena Herald says that three gold bricks valued at nearly $20,000, were purchased recently by the First National Bank at that place.

The lead grasshoppers in the streets of Salt Lake City have become a burden, and the citizens are debating plans for getting rid of them.

The Helena Herald has a telegram from Corinne stating that so far, the present season over 2,000 persons have gone north from that place into Montana.

Speaking of the last assassination in Idaho the Boise Chronicle says: "Only the fourth man gone in three weeks. The rest of the Territory [illegible] hear from. Good chance for undertakers. Pass on. Who's turn next."

Camp Cook, Montana, which has been held as a military post for some time, has been dismantled and the troops taken to Helena. Fort Shaw is being improved as a permanent station for troops. Gen. Gibbon commands there.

Mr. F. Meeker of Olympia announces that he is about to publish a work containing a description of the general features of Washington Territory west of the Cascade mountains. It will contain fifty pages of reading matter—a mass of interesting intelligence. 3,000 copies are already engaged. The work is to be issued in about two months.

Among the "relics" put in the corner stone of the Idaho Penitentiary was a slip of Chinese paper with Chinese writing thereon. When the Chinaman handed it to Superintendent Donaldson he said: "By an' by all Chinamen have to leave the county. Six, seven, eight hundred year Melican man tear down building. Melican man see him. Whoo-ow. Chinaman live here long time ago."

A Frenchman, name unknown, about fifty years of age, was murdered some days ago near Spokane bridge. He was riding one horse and driving another loaded with provisions, on his way to the mines in company with four others. He appeared to have been murdered in his sleep, with an ax—there being a horrid gash in his head, and a rope had been tied around his neck, it may be with a view of dragging him off—a purpose which was afterwards abandoned. The body was left where he had been killed, but his blankets and an old shot gun had been taken away two or three hundred yards and thrown behind an old log. His horses and provisions had probably been taken away by the murderers. Search is being made at Cedar Creek and elsewhere for the persons with whom he was last seen.

FINANCIAL AND INDUSTRIAL.

The Superintendent of the Census [illegible] an appropriation of $3,126,000 to defray the expenses of taking the ninth census. It is stated therein that the expense of taking the eighth census was $1,630,000.

When the war ended Kansas had no railroads at all. Now she has more than a thousand miles of railway within her own limits, and an abundance of railway connections with every part of the country.

The wheat crop of Illinois last year was nearly 28,000,000 bushels, a larger amount than was produced in any other State. Iowa followed with 25,000,000 bushels and Wisconsin and California with 24,000,000 bushels each.

The Shoe and Leather Reporter states that New England and New York manufacturers are already considering the expediency of engaging several thousand Chinamen to take the place of Crispins, in case of future difficulties.

Supervisor Dutcher of New York, makes some very interesting reports to Commissioner Delano, in relation to the income tax of New York. In the twelve districts, including Brooklyn and New York the total increase for this year has been $222,695.

The total receipts of the Government, since its organization, March 4, 1789, to June 30, 1869, a period of eighty years, from all sources, were $11,402,006,090, and the expenditures $11,250,000,000. A statement is being prepared at the Treasury Department which will show the quarterly receipts and expenditures of the Government from January 1861 to June 1870, all disbursements on account of the war, &c.

The contract for supplying stationery for the State has been awarded to J. K. Gill, of Salem. There were three bids from San Francisco, two from Portland and one from Corvallis.

The people at Yaquina Bay are recovering from the loss of the schooner Champion and the explosion of the mill, which for a time stagnated most of the business of the place. Mr. Fred Sawtell has purchased the interest of Mr. Meggison in the old mill and the vessel which is now being built at Monroe's. He has gone to San Francisco to procure a new boiler, and in the meantime the old one has been patched up for temporary use and was to have been put in operation on the 4th instant.

The Statesman learns through verbal reports made by persons from California, that the contract for carrying the mails, overland, from Portland to Sacramento has been let to a Yreka man named Oilman, or Alman, for $95,500 per annum. Jesse D. Carr being his bondsman. The old Stage Company are carrying the mail for a month at the rate of $1,290 per day. This report is hearsay, but the agent at this place seems to think it is reliable. If this is the case, the contract is much lower than ever before.

Last year the Republicans of Maine elected Gov. Chamberlain by 12,624 majority in a poll of 89,178 votes. Judging from the indications says the New York Times, we shall expect to carry the State in the approaching canvass by a majority nearly if not quite as large. There was a rumor that the retiring Governor would be a candidate for the Congressional nomination in the Portland district, but it is denied by the Portland Advertiser, which announces that he will be a candidate before the next Legislature for the United States Senate.

TARRANT'S SELTZER APERIENT.

No enjoyment without Health,—Of all the property we own in the world that which demands the greatest care is our bodies. Better lose houses, lands, balances in the bank, anything that represents wealth, than the strength, vigor and elasticity of the physical frame. The dyspeptic, the bilious sufferer, the nervous invalid, can not enjoy the gifts of fortune. Happily, however, dyspepsia, biliousness and nervous debility are removable evils. TARRANT'S EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT is a specific for them. It renovates the stomach, improves the appetite, cleanses the bowels, regulates the liver, calms the nerves, and disinfects the depraved fluids.

WEDNESDAY MORNING JULY 13, 1870

[illegible] fire crackers are a [illegible] splendid [illegible] [illegible] We have [illegible] [illegible] everybody is supposed to be ready and anxious on that day to [illegible] and in accordance with time honored usage everybody commenced [illegible] with the fewest possible opportunities. And especially as a wise precaution against fires during dry hot weather like the present fire crackers should be discouraged by all possible means.

NELSON'S [illegible]—The performance last night by Nelson's Hippodrome Company was given to a crowded pavilion. We hazard nothing in saying that for new acts and perfection of performance, this exhibition has never been presented in this city by any superior company. It is not strictly a circus performance but rather that of a hippodrome company. There were, however a few acts of [illegible] horsemanship which were about average [illegible] these we need not speak; but the rest of the performance was mostly new and unique. The acts of Oberni and the Nelson children were marvelously good considering the ages of the little [illegible] five and seven. The crystal [illegible] by Mr Samuel Nelson was a performance worthy of special mention and commendation. And the same remark may be made of the Spanish Trance by James Cook. Cook is the jester of the company, not a clown in the ordinary sense of the word. His style is original, and we think a decided improvement upon the old circus style of clowning. The Brother Act by the Nelson Brothers was by far the best acrobatic performance ever given in this city, and the [illegible] act was the only one of the kind we ever saw so well performed as not to make us nervous and ill at ease. The "Comic Fiddlers" excited immense laughter and applause and the contortion act by Mons. Duvernay was done by a real champion. Altogether, the performance is entirely out of the stale routine of circus acts, and is richly worth the patronage of our people. The performance to-night will consist of new acts, as wonderful and interesting as any given last [illegible]. The Nelson Brothers claim to have over forty acts never performed by any company on this coast or elsewhere.

BRIEF MENTION.—The bark Whistler sailed [illegible] from Rainier, for San Francisco. She takes out nearly 1,000 tons produce and 75,000 feet of lumber.

The bark Webfoot is discharging railroad iron at East Portland.

The Commercial says that a company has been [illegible] at Shoalwater Bay for the purpose of building a steamer to ply upon the waters of that bay and the various streams flowing into it.

A man named Preston represents that he was [illegible] and robbed by a couple of men in this city last Saturday evening, not unlikely, and yet [illegible] may have gone where the woodbine twineth.

A private hospital for railroad hands, it is reported, is about to be built at East Portland.

It was reported yesterday that Ben Holladay had purchased the extensive mill property of [illegible] & Stimson at North Portland.

A petition has been in circulation praying the [illegible] to consolidate the governments of the county of Multnomah and city of Portland.

COUNTY COURT—HAMILTON, JUDGE.—Proceedings by the Judge and County Commissioners, [illegible] day, July 12.

In the matter of the estate of Patrick Daly [illegible] order entered for sale of property.

In the matter of the investigation of the condition of the county poor house and farm, testimony all taken and the matter held under advisement till Thursday the 14th.

The following rates for licenses were established: Peddler on foot, $[illegible] per quarter. Peddler with wagon and one horse $10.00 per quarter; same with wagon and two horses, $15.00; same on or with a boat $[illegible] per quarter, selling liquor at retail $[illegible] per quarter. Ferry on smaller streams $5.00 per annum.

In the matter of the estate of Leonard White, [illegible] W. S. Caldwell, Levi Anderson and E. Myers appointed appraisers. The Court adjourned.

ON THE SOUND.—A friend who has just returned from the Sound furnishes us the following bits of news taken on the spot. The stock of lumber at the principal mills is very light and at the present low prices there is a disposition among owners to manufacture as little as possible. Discharging men and teams from the logging camps is the general order of the day over there. The terminus of the great N. P. R. R. is not yet fixed and many are running to and fro. Water is getting very low in the Cowlitz. Capt. Smith expresses doubt about being able to make many more trips with the Wenat if any. The mail line and opposition at present and until new arrangements are carrying passengers from Monticello to the Sound for the very small fare of five dollars. Quick time and good roads for that route.

"TEN YEARS IN WALL STREET."—Mrs. Millett, the lady who some weeks since commenced the canvass of this city for subscribers to "Ten Years in Wall Street," has been delayed nearly a month in the delivery of the book, by severe illness. She is now recovering and will in a few days be able to supply all her subscribers. A few of them may be supplied to-day and during the present week. Mrs. M. regrets the delay and contrary to the advice of her physician, was out yesterday trying to do something. We feel sure that under the circumstances none of her subscribers will complain at the non receipt of the book as soon as expected.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT—[illegible], JUDGE.—Tuesday July 12th. United States vs. W. H. Smith, indicted for perjury. The following persons empanneled and sworn [illegible] Young [illegible] Brown, Cyrus [illegible] L. Wintcomb [illegible] B. Crawford [illegible] testimony on part of plaintiff the court [illegible] until Wednesday 10 A. M.

United States vs. A. [illegible] indictment for selling liquor to an Indian. [illegible] defendant arraigned and plead not guilty and cause set for trial [illegible] Friday next.

A HEALTHY [illegible]—The census takers are ascertaining [illegible] number of deaths [illegible] the last year in the districts [illegible]

THE DAILY BULLETIN.—We are requested to note the fact that the proposed plan of issuing the Daily Bulletin each day in the week, Sundays excepted, has been changed so as to issue every day except Monday. This change avoids Sunday work. We invite attention again to the prospectus published in this paper.

CITY.

FIRE CRACKERS A NUISANCE.—Fire crackers are a [illegible] institution in one sense of the word but [illegible] is another that is one of the devices [illegible] for the annoyance of the Christian world. We have heard since the fire cracker season began of several very narrow escapes from fires [illegible] almost resulting from the shying of [illegible] up on the roofs of houses by the party detonations [illegible] of Prof Hughes [illegible] ambitious [illegible] an ordinance forbidding the [illegible] of crackers, bombs and other infernal in[struments] in the public streets except it might [be the] Fourth of July. Everybody is supposed to be ready and anxious on that day to [illegible] of "lives for ones and sacred hon[or]" and all that sort of thing, and in accord [with] time-honored usage everybody consents [to go] through the ordeal of fire works on one day [in the year]; but why should the nuisance be pro[longed] into the next week and the week after? [It is] of course, one of the most exquisite of pleas[ures for] mischievous boys to touch off fire crack[ers], double headers and other pyrotech[nics] close to the ears and eyes of dismayed [illegible], and the charming effect of torpedoes [illegible] from a window or of other detonants [illegible] the path to be crushed into explosion by [illegible] is not to be underrated. Still it is [illegible] the whole to limit these festivities to [proper] times and places. Delightful as they are [illegible] they may be dearly purchased by ru[ined] [illegible] or broken bones, and although [illegible] among their elders may sometimes [enjoy] the consolatory sport of seeing "the en[gineer hoist] with his own petard," it is wiser to [reduce] the chances of it to the fewest possible op[portunities], and especially as a wise precau[tion] during dry hot weather like [the] present, fire crackers should be discouraged by all possible means.

[illegible] HIPPODROME.—The performance last [night] by Nelson's Hippodrome Company was [given] in a crowded pavilion. We hazard nothing [in saying] that for new acts and perfection of per[formance], this exhibition has never been pre[sented in] this city by any superior company. It [is not] strictly a circus performance but rather [that of a] Hippodrome company. There were [few of] the acts of horsemanship which were [illegible]. Cook is the [clown of] the company—not a clown in the ordi[nary sense] of the word. His style is original [and a] decided improvement upon the [old] style of clowning. The Brother Act [by the Nelson] Brothers, was by far the best acro[batic performance] ever given in this city, and the [illegible] the only one of the kind we ever [saw so] performed as not to make us [feel ill] at ease. The Comic Fiddlers' [act caused] laughter and applause and the [illegible] by Mons Duverney was done by a [master]. Altogether the performance is [one out] of the stale routine of circus acts, [and well] worth the patronage of our people. [The bill for] to-night will consist of new acts, [as novel] and interesting as any given last [night]. The Nelson Brothers claim to have over [illegible] performed by any company on [the continent] here.

[illegible].—The bark Whistler sailed [yesterday in] tow of a steamer for San Francisco. She [took nearly] 1 000 tons produce and 25 000 [illegible].

[The] Webfoot is discharging railroad iron [illegible].

[illegible] Preston represents that he was [illegible] by a couple of men in this [city] [illegible] not unlikely and yet [illegible] gone where the "woodbine [twineth]."

[A boarding house] for railroad hands, it is re[ported, is] to be built at East Portland.

[It is reported] yesterday that Ben Holladay [has bought] the extensive mill property of [illegible] at North Portland.

[A petition has] been in circulation praying the [Legislature] to consolidate the governments of the [county of] Multnomah and city of Portland.

[COUNTY COURT]—HAMILTON, JUDGE.—Proceed[ings of the] Judge and County Commissioners, [Tuesday] July 12.

[In the] matter of the estate of Patrick Daly [illegible] entered for sale of property.

[In the] matter of the investigation of the con[dition of the] county poor house and farm, testi[mony] taken and the matter held under ad[visement] till Thursday, the 14th.

[Peddler] with a boat, $10 00 per quarter, sell[ing at] retail $25 00 per quarter. Ferry on [illegible] $5 00 per annum.

[In the] matter of the estate of Leonard White, [illegible] Levi Anderson and E. [illegible] appraisers. The Court ad[journed].

U. S. DISTRICT COURT—DEADY, JUDGE.—Tues[day, July 12.] United States vs W H Smith [indicted for] perjury. The following persons em[paneled] and sworn as jury: Jas Winston, [illegible] B Cozine, G M Raymond, W W [illegible], Cyrus Smith, D Beach, Jas H Foster, [illegible], J W Cullen, Chas Mealy, D. [illegible]. After hearing testimony on part of [the] U. S. the court adjourned until Wednesday.

United States vs. Ah Pou, indictment for sel[ling liquor] to an Indian. Defendant arraigned [and plead] not guilty and cause set for trial on [illegible].

[CLACKAMAS] COUNTY.—The census takers are [recording] among other important things, the [number of] deaths during the last year in their [districts]. In conversation with one or two of [the enumerators] we have received statements which [are] a little surprising. In Clackamas [county], out of a population of 6 00[0], the census taker found that there [had been but] 30 deaths during the year. The [returns of] many other counties will be found no [better]. It will be difficult we think for any [other] State to show a more favorable mortuary [record] than this.

THE DAILY BULLETIN.—We are requested to [state] that the proposed plan of issuing [the] Bulletin each day in the week, Sundays [excepted, has] been changed so as to issue every [day except] Monday. This change avoids Sun[day work]. We invite attention again to the pros[pectus] in this paper.

LEG BROKEN BY A FALL.—A man named Seid[ner] about 11 o'clock Monday evening slipped by stepping on orange peel on the sidewalk near the entrance to Oro Fino saloon and falling broke the two bones of one of his legs just above the ankle. He was attended at the moment by Dr [illegible] who set the bones and then as he is not in practice resigned the case to Drs Glisan and [illegible]. Mr Seidner we learn is doing well.

NEW [illegible].—The Commercial [illegible] Through a private letter received from [illegible] dated June 15th 1870 we learn that further gold discoveries have been made on the Jack river and [illegible] there [illegible] having been found by a party of prospectors near [illegible] on the [illegible] Oreille river 6 [illegible] above Cabinet landing.

RED MEN.—At a regular meeting of Multnomah Tribe No 3 Improved Order of Red Men, held Monday evening the following officers were installed for the ensuing term: S V Fuller S; Chas S Mills S S; Robt F Bybee, J S; Ward S Stevens C of R; J Putnam Smith K of W; Chas Newell 1st S; H M Hudson 2d S; A B Brannan G of W; Wm White G of F.

NEW GROCERY AND FLOWER STAND.—Messrs [illegible] & W Morgan corner of First and Madison streets in connection with their grocery, have undertaken to fill a great want in the city—a permanent stand for flowers and shrubbery—and we hope they will be sustained by a liberal patronage. Flowers trees and shrubs of every variety may be had there.

ODD FELLOWS INSTALLATION.—At the meeting of Minerva Lodge No 19 I O O F, Monday evening the following officers were installed to serve for the ensuing term by D D G M, Chas Wintzinger [illegible] C A Alisky N G; J Kraemer V G; A Goldsmith R S; C F Smith T; L Levin P S.

CIRCUIT COURT—UPTON, JUDGE.—Tuesday, July 12th.

McDonald vs Terwilliger motion for judgment on verdict allowed and judgment taken.

Risley & Drucker vs Angelina Kennard jury empanneled and case on trial at the adjournment of the Court.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.—Messrs Stitzel & Upton mention in a manifesto this morning several excellent chances to invest in real estate near East Portland and in Washington county. We take pleasure in referring enquirers after real estate to these gentlemen.

GOVERNMENT FREIGHT AND IRON.—The cargo of the Webfoot was almost entirely government or iron. Of the former there were 2,112 packages, and of the latter 170 pieces iron front castings and 2 351 bars railroad iron.

THERMOMETRICAL.—Yesterday was comparatively a lovely day the thermometer standing at only 80 degrees. The temperature was the same at Wallula and 5 degrees more [illegible] at Dalles and Umatilla.

THE GERMAN SCHOOL CONCERT.—The parties in charge of this concert for July 21st inform us that they are finding already extensive sale for tickets. It is likely to be a financial success.

LOADING WITH GRAIN.—The ship Harmonie Doctor is being loaded with grain at this port by Messrs Allen & Lewis for Rogers Myers & Co of San Francisco for the Liverpool market.

EXCURSION.—Remember the moonlight excursion to-night. The Oneonta starts at eight and returns at eleven o clock fare only one dollar.

U S CIRCUIT COURT—DEADY J.—On motion of Mr J H Mitchell B Whitten was admitted to the bar.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS

The New York Commercial says there is a man in that city who uses his first wife's skull for a coffee cup.

A deceased Bostonian left by his will $1,000 to be divided among the clerks of the bank that had the care of his fortune.

The Louisville Courier is now the only daily regularly published in Kentucky and even that does little more than pay expenses.

A tulip in full bloom, covering a space of a quarter of an acre and containing fully one thousand tulips, is one of the features of Brookline, Mass.

The valley of Virginia has never presented a more flattering appearance than now. The wheat generally is fine the oats looking well, the grass luxuriant the corn promising.

President White of Cornell University, offers his architectural library to the institution if they will purchase the Hillhome mathematical library. Both libraries are worth $10 000.

The Gates will case has been decided against the legatees, Surrogate Mills, of Westchester county refusing to admit the will to probate on account of the insanity of deceased.

An idol carved out of limestone, with lineaments well defined was dug out of the earth at Madison Indiana a few days since, which is supposed to have belonged to some extinct race.

A man in New Hampshire had become so used to matrimony that on the occasion of marrying his fourth wife, when the minister requested the couple to stand up he said "I've usually sat."

A man rode ten miles to Sycamore, Illinois lately for a jug of rain water he had a diseased hand on which he used a preparation made with rain water and could get none any nearer home than this.

Etruscan jewelry made over 2,000 years ago was recently worn in public by an Italian lady and was declared by competent judges to be superior in workmanship and finish to any made at present in Paris.

At a public sale of books in London, Drew's "Essay on Souls" was knocked down to a shoemaker who to the great astonishment of the assembly asked the auctioneer if he had "any more books on shoemaking to sell."

A Delaware farmer curbed the friskiness of his oxen's tails by tying a brick to each. He considered the experiment a failure when one of the brute swung the brick at a maddening fly and brained the farmer's eldest boy.

The store of Henry Barnes at Norfolk, Va was burned recently caused by the explosion of a kerosene lamp. Of the family, who lived over the store all escaped except two children, aged eleven and thirteen who were burned to death.

A photographer of Stockholm C J Malmberg, has received a patent for a new discovery which he calls phototypy. He transfers photographs on metallic plates and by means of printing colors can print them on paper even to smallest details.

After the passengers had been taken from the wrecked car in the Vermont railroad disaster one of them was seen rushing about in a very excited manner and being asked if he was much injured replied that he wasn't much hurt but wanted to find his umbrella!

The Harrison (Texas) Flag says: The flowing immigration into Texas does not abate in the least. Every steamboat up Red river is crowded with people who are coming to Texas while the numbers who have taken the overland route can not be estimated. In one more year our State will be nearly filled up.

Governor Walker has signed the bill incorporating the Atlantic Mississippi and Ohio railroad. This is a consolidation of the Norfolk and Petersburg, Southside and Virginia and Tennessee railroads, under the management of Gen Mahone. The anti consolidation party had expected a veto and are much disappointed.

Now that the seven champions of Christendom have been succeeded by 7 000 champions, whose exploits are a trifle less romantic it is becoming a little tedious to record the qualities that are distinguished by the possession of one or more of these heroes and the chivalric peculiarities they respectively claim. Springfield, Ohio however insists upon being heard and possessing a porter at a hotel who can swing up a trunk weighing 600 pounds wishes it proclaimed abroad that her champion baggage tosser throws down his baggage—say a Saratoga packed with Congressional documents—and lo! ies the world.

The emancipation bill which has passed the Spanish Cortes is better than the very gradual scheme of Senor Moret but is only an unsatisfactory sort of measure after all. Slaves obtain their liberty at 60 instead of 65 years of age, which is but a trifling concession to justice for liberty at that time of life is rather a sentimental than a practical benefit. It is still provided that children born of slave parents since the overthrow of the Bourbon dynasty shall be held in an apprenticeship differing little from slavery till they are twenty two years of age but there are some important qualifications of their bondage designed to secure their immunity from ill treatment and their immediate emancipation if they marry.

POLITICAL NOTES

All but [illegible] of the W[illegible] [illegible] emphatically declare that they will not accept [the] nominations.

The South Carolina Republican State Convention [illegible] to [illegible] for State officers [illegible] in Columbia on Tuesday July 26.

[illegible] Convention at Jackson [illegible]

[illegible] favorable [illegible] [illegible] parties in the United States [illegible] Britain [illegible] for this country [illegible]

The Democratic Members of Congress addressed [illegible] similar to the Southern supporters of their party urging them not to risk the [illegible] Senators or Representatives by electing men who must take the test oath [illegible] under the disability imposed by the XIVth Amendment. [illegible]

The Chicago Republican appreciates the [illegible] of his officers. He [illegible] they [illegible] as he did his [illegible] honesty and integrity of purpose [illegible] much personal abuse but the people [illegible] stand it pretty well [illegible]

The Springfield Republican says that it [illegible] that the [illegible] Democrats intend to make political capital out of the employment of Chinese laborers. They hope to please the Crispins it says and to carry the State by the help of the latter. Such an expedient might turn out to work very much on the principle of the boomerang and return to plague its authors.

By proclamation of Gov Baldwin the Legislature of Michigan will meet in special session at the Capitol in Lansing on Wednesday July 27, to take action in reference to municipal aid to railroads [illegible] being deemed necessary in consequence of the [decision of the] Supreme Court of the State that many of the bonds issued by counties [illegible] in aid of railroads have been issued under the provisions of laws which are unconstitutional and void.

If the recently published address of the Democratic Congressmen, says the New York Herald is to be taken as the first grand pronouncement of the campaign the infantry shot into the enemy's camp it may as well be said to have fallen stillborn or like the fuse of damp powder fizzled out before it attracted attention. It would not fill worthily a place in the political column of a country Democratic newspaper, and that seems to be the way in which that class of journals are treating the document.

PERSONAL NOTES

Washington Irving made $150 000 by his writings; Sir Walter Scott, $500,000; Dickens, $460 000.

A telegram to a San Francisco paper states that Gen Sherman intends to visit the Pacific coast this summer.

Gen Jeff Thomson is making his first visit to St Joseph, Mo since the war. He was once Mayor of the city.

A Mississippi paper announces that "George Diokeny the well known author of Box and the Mystery of Druidism, is dead.

If the Boston Journal has not been misinformed, a gentleman of that city claims to own one of the best carpets Mr Brussels ever made.

It is said that Judge Bingham of Ohio, will wander away willingly from the halls of Congress, if he can get the mission to Italy.

Speaking of Jeff Davis the New Orleans Picayune says—"With such men as now bear sway for him the post of honor is decidedly the private station." Oh!

Davill Newsom, of Marion county (Oregon) publishes in the St. Louis Democrat a long letter giving an account of a trip to the summit of Mt Hood and of various matters relating to Oregon.

A Rhode Island paper says: Of Ida Lewis, little or nothing is heard nowadays at Newport; the furore is over and she is not likely to be troubled with guests and presents this year. This, without doubt, will be a relief to her, as the burden of her complaint has been that owing to company, she was unable to get her washing out.

A pun upon a slang phrase, perpetrated in a material form is traveling around the country. It is simply a dilapidated shoe fastened between two old book covers on which is pasted a picture of a prominent public man driving off flies with a broom. This curious missive travels from post office to postoffice. It is stamped with the post marks of cities in Illinois in Oregon, on the Pacific Railroad on the Panama steamship route. When last heard of it was on the way from Cincinnati to New Orleans. Each recipient after studying out the enigma, posts it to a new station and prolongs the wanderings of the "shoo fly."

OUR CITIZENS certainly deserve credit for the energy they display to make the Oregon Immigration and Labor Exchange a success and benefit to the State as well as the immigrant coming to our State. Every citizen should give all the aid in their power to help the large number of strangers coming to our State and not forget to inform them that Kohn & Fishel, No 91 Front street, have the largest stock of clothing in Oregon; other goods are of superior quality and sold at extreme low prices.

The Life Sustaining Organs

The two organs which [illegible] the support of the body are the stomach and liver. In the former the first process of digestion takes place [illegible]. Once the food is converted into a pulp passes into the duodenum where it is subjected to the action of the bile discharged from the liver and of the fluid generated by the pancreas or sweetbread of the system. The separation [illegible] from the rest, and it is then taken up by the absorbent vessels and conveyed into the channels of circulation in the form of [illegible] blood while the waste matter is discharged through the bowels. Unless all these processes are duly performed [illegible] and the best of all medicinal agents for preserving or restoring the tone and regulating the action of these organs [illegible] the useful work is carried on is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters [illegible] generally accompanied by constipation and the gentle cathartic [illegible] tera is no less important in cases of this kind than its tonic effect upon the stomach and the biliary gland. Beauty of person as well as health depends in no small degree upon the regularity of the excretive functions. A sallow complexion a thick opaque coated skin a tainted breath rush of blood to the head loss of memory headache and extreme mental depression are the usual accompaniments of costiveness. A course of the Bitters will infallibly relieve and finally banish these obnoxious symptoms while invigorating the stomach and promoting healthy action in the liver. This genial vegetable stomachic and alterative strikes at disease in its primary sources, the assimilating secretive and excretive organs and the cures it effects are consequently thorough and complete.

The Great Fire in Constantinople

Report of the Conflagration—Loss of Life and Property—The Sultan at the Post of Danger—City and Suburban Scenes.

[illegible] were destroyed [illegible] $10,000,000 was swallowed [illegible] in which the fire was kept [illegible] is the fact that the fire [illegible] but a few hours and spread with [illegible] rapidity [illegible] instant, and with an explosion like that of cannon. Such awfully destructive fires are, fortunately hardly possible in American cities with their broad avenues, brick buildings and superior fire engines. The following is the New York Herald's report dated Constantinople June 6:

The 5th of June will long be a memorable day in the minds of the present [illegible] generation of the inhabitants [illegible] that part of this capital occupied by the foreign legations, the greatest part of [illegible] population and vast [illegible]. About noon a wooden house situated in the highest part of the city, called the Taxim, caught fire, and fresh[illegible] by a violent north wind, it spread with fearful rapidity over an extent of [illegible] incredible from the Taxim to what is called the Petit Champs des Morts along the Grande Rue de Pera to some distance between the Galata Saray College [illegible] the fine houses of the place [illegible] as wood (some 10,000 houses) have been burned, and it is supposed about 1,000 persons—men, women and children.

All of the finest cafes, the [illegible] and shops with all of their contents [illegible] noon of the 5th to the following morning [illegible] petuously, and, perhaps, at no other time has there been so terrible a catastrophe occurred here or in any other capital in Europe. Frequent as fires are in this place [illegible] members any one which consumed [illegible] many fine houses such valuable effects, and [illegible] so many lives. The dead are still being taken out of the ashes, some from wells, cisterns and cellars into which they proposed to escape from the raging element of fire. Some have been found in wells still alive. Few were found still living in the open ground. Smothered by the heat and smoke, hundreds fell exhausted in the streets, and were covered up in the falling cinders and burning fragments.

In one place twenty-two females were found dead in a cellar. Mothers were found surrounded by their children, the smallest in their arms, all dead. Many lost their lives in fruitless attempts to save the lives and property of their friends.

Many Turkish gentlemen came over from Stamboul to aid their Christian friends and convey their families to their own houses. All of the Sultan's ministers hastened to the scene and did much to save lives but with [illegible] saving property.

The Grand Vizier and the Ministers of Police and War were particularly conspicuous in their zeal in the midst of the flames and before nightfall the Sultan also came from the side of the Taxim and did much to encourage the firemen in their vain efforts to avert the flames with sums of money and words of promise and encouragement. His clothes having taken fire, his suite finally prevailed upon him to retire. Early the next morning his Majesty again returned and it is said was deeply affected at the dreadful calamity which had befallen his subjects. He had already thoughtfully ordered some five hundred tents to be brought to the square of the Taxim and the adjacent Armenian and Greek cemeteries, and carts were everywhere seen conveying food to the houseless and utterly destitute poor.

SAD SCENES.

Such a heartrending scene of desolation cannot be imagined; it must be seen. Mothers, fathers and friends walking among the ashes in search of children, brothers and sisters! Here some twenty dead bodies lay together, almost burned into a dark mass of charred matter; there a number of others scarcely burned at all "sleeping the sleep which knows no waking." Some were but little changed, though swollen, while many others could scarcely be recognized as having ever been living men and women. Several, many even, small children, had been lost in the [illegible] and abandoned to their sad fate. Many must even have been trampled to death under the feet of those who madly rushed along the fiery streets in search of life and fresh air. What the end of [illegible] must be by fire can be imagined from the awful scenes of burning Pera.

FANNING THE FLAMES.

The wind was so violent that the flames spread everywhere at once [illegible] knew where to fly [illegible] appeared but certain death [illegible] frightful form and it is only surprising that so few became its victims.

The British Embassy [illegible] flames took fire in the afternoon and is now [illegible] a mass of charred ruins. Its archives and some of the silver were found.

The American Consulate was burned but some of its archives have been saved.

The American Minister and the Secretary's houses were saved [illegible] were situated [illegible] taken fire at all, the wind blowing the flames to another direction.

The Freemasons have organized a committee of succor for those [illegible] food and other positive necessities and call upon their brethren in Europe and America for contributions of any amount through Messrs Baring Brothers [illegible] London who will forward them to the District Grand Master, Brother John P. Brown, Secretary of the American Legation. If ever [illegible] had calls upon mankind [illegible] moment.

Besides the tents given by [illegible] is no other covering [illegible] Thousands of the [illegible] are seen going among the [illegible] Christians distributing small sums of money [illegible] food [illegible] presence of [illegible] The weather is warm and [illegible] water is wanted [illegible] boards and even the [illegible] sands of [illegible] who [illegible] reclined in the [illegible] sofas. A long time [illegible] can be provided for [illegible] parts of the city.

A population of at least 50,000 persons are houseless.

English Account of the Conflagration—Petroleum in Liquid Flame and Explosion.

The Liverpool Post of the 16th of June speaking of the great fire, its origin and progress [illegible] to the particulars of this terrible disaster communicated by telegraph [illegible] by the kindness of a Liverpool merchant to add the following details from a [illegible] supplement [illegible] paper.

The disaster originated [illegible] Yandechesme below the Taxim where at [illegible] two P. M. a fire broke out in a [illegible] wooden house. A strong northwest wind was blowing at the time [illegible] in a few minutes to the adjoining houses engulfing the whole and rolling on in the line of the wind like a torrent of liquid fire. In a little [illegible] than we take to tell it the entire [illegible] town into the valley was [illegible] stores [illegible] houses [illegible]

[illegible] which [illegible] as fast [illegible] houses were of iron, and were [illegible] partially [illegible] iron and window shutters [illegible] half an hour later the whole upper part of the building was ablaze. Thirty minutes [illegible] was a prey to the flames [illegible]

Late in the afternoon [illegible] Majesty [illegible] had been [illegible] hoped [illegible] to master the flames and [illegible] the building [illegible] fire spread [illegible] From [illegible] were [illegible] books [illegible] works [illegible] manuscripts belonging to Mr. Hughes, now absent in England [illegible] a prey to the destroyer [illegible] his own [illegible] the papers, he [illegible] nearly a life [illegible] firemen and an engine were attached to the establishment but when drawn out [illegible] it was found that the hose and nozzles were damaged and though there was water in abundance little or no use could therefore be made of either [illegible]

At an early hour of the evening the Grand Vizier, the Ministers of War and [illegible] and several other high functionaries [illegible] to the scene of the disaster but it was soon apparent that nothing could be done to arrest [illegible] Its extent and [illegible] defy description and would equally [illegible]

What [illegible] greatly to the [illegible] spread of the calamity was the large stock of petroleum in the shops of the [illegible] A [illegible] flames [illegible] houses [illegible] the explosion of the [illegible] in which [illegible] killed or mortally burned several persons on the spot.

Of the scene presented [illegible] Petit and Grand Champs, and in fact by all the open spaces round the faubourg it would be difficult to convey an idea. Where [illegible] could be found for a family [illegible] little burned out groups had congregated with such articles of [illegible] and furniture as they had been able to save from the flames, many of them however were without even a mattress, and the aspect of the whole was [illegible] beyond description.

Up to yesterday afternoon eighty four bodies had been buried in the Greek cemetery at the Taxim alone and throughout the day the municipality carts were busily employed in conveying their ghastly loads to the [illegible] other burying grounds. Though the majority of these had been burned to death many were [illegible] by the fire having evidently been suffocated or crushed to death in lower rooms.

THE SULTAN.

Early in the evening the Sultan rode up from Dolma-baktche but on reaching the Taxim his Majesty found the way already barred by the flames and was [illegible] forced to return. With a thoughtfulness which does him [illegible] the Sultan [illegible] (Belle Vue) Barracks to be vacated by the troops and thrown open to the [illegible] victims of the calamity [illegible] giving abundant rations of bread and [illegible] at his Majesty's private expense. Orders have at the same time been given to [illegible] the Mussulman quarters to relax the rule which practically forbids Christians [illegible] houses in those mahalles [illegible] house accommodation will thus [illegible] come available and at rates of rent much below that which is usually paid in the exclusive Christian quarters.
